

The reference-architecture escalation path escalate when the workload outgrows the current tier; the tiers are orthogonal levels of scale, not a quality ranking